A GREAT SPECIAL SALE.

Eugene Edge on the Corner Held the Crowds Today From Early Morn to Dewey Eve.

"Where are the crowds today?" was the question heard on every hand and the universal explanation was that they were congregated in the store of Eugene Edge "On the Corner" taking advantage of the thousands of bargains he offered to the people today in his great special sale.

There have been special sales and special sales in Bryan, but the one inaugurated today by Eugene Edge, held them all in the shade.

It had been advertised that a five dollar gold piece would be given away in front of the store at 9 o'clock to the holder of the lucky number, and that also at the opening of the doors of the store ten dress patterns would be given to the ten ladies who first entered the building after the doors were opened. This in connection with the thousands of great bargains that had been advertised, did the business and the crowds were on hand. They were there long before the time for the opening, and they remained, and were constantly added to and by the opening hour, several hundred were present.

The numbers were all placed in a box, and the lucky number which had been deposited in the First National Bank, was held by one gentleman while another drew the numbers from the box and called them out. When the lucky number was called, the fact was made known by the gentleman who had it in his charge, and the prize was awarded to the holder of the lucky number. Number "47" happened to be the winner and was held by Mrs. T. A. Searcy. The fact was announced and she was given the prize, a five dollar gold piece.

Immediately after the drawing, the doors were thrown open and the game was on. Picketts charge at Gettysburg was not in it compared to the scramble to get in the house first to get one of the ten free dress patterns. The patterns were laid on the floor along the two aisles, extending to the rear of the building, and there were no forward passes nor around the end plays, but one grand, simultaneous center rush. They were all secured before you could tell it, but those who were disappointed remained in a good humor and enjoyed the fun as much as the others.

In just a few minutes after the doors were opened the jam became so great, the proprietor was compelled to lock the doors and new customers could not be admitted until those in the store were waited on and turned out.

A great throng of customers crowded the store all day and the only word that can properly describe the sale is SUCCESS.

A large force of extra salespeople was employed and they were kept on the jump all day. Mr. Edge is greatly pleased with the opening day of his great sale and announces that the great feast of bargains will be continued from day to day until the sale closes.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES.

The Elks are noted for their social functions, and on last evening they gave quite an enjoyable dance for the visiting girls thus starting the gayeties for commencement week. Most excellent music was furnished for the dancers and the pleasures of the evening did not break until a late hour.

Misses Francis Chance, M. Ross Parker and Pansy Peck will leave the latter part of the week to be guests at a house party in Beaumont given by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Josey.

On Friday afternoon sixty of Mrs. E. J. Fountains friends assembled at her beautiful home in response to invitations to enjoy her hospitality from 4 to 6. The party was given complimentary to the Week End Club. Ten tables had been arranged for that popular game, forty-two. Those participating evidently entered the game with a determination to excel, for not one lagging moment ensued and not one incident marred their enthusiasm. The rooms were filled with fresh and fragrant flowers and rich-hued plants. The admirable quality of graciousness in this hostess is the keynote of her success and bespeaks an individual pleasure to each and all of her guests. The dainty score cards were pink and green silk bags, into these as each game was played a number of beans were dropped.

After the last game the hostess asked her guests to repair to the cool and inviting lawn, where they would use the beans won playing forty-two as money in an auction sale. This pleasure was the trump social feature of the entertainment. Those who had the good fortune to be invited to this affair carried home with them some dainty article as a souvenir of the occasion. Mrs. A. J. Buchanan in her original and pleasing style served as auctioneer which added much to the fun and laughter of the occasion. Miss Frances Fountain assisted the hostess in serving an elaborate salad course with an ice which only served to put the finishing touches to this enjoyable affair.

Among the many charming hostesses and hosts, who know just how to arrange a delightful evening for their friends are Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Astin. On this evening they will entertain with an elaborate dance at their elegant home in honor of Misses Bessie Heard, Louise Harrison of McKinney, Lorraine Reynolds of Franklin, Mamie Blount of Nacogdoches, Margaret Westbrook of Waco, Robbie Seal of Benchley, Mary Ross Parker, Allie and Ray Conway.

The handsome rugs and chairs have been removed to the large and beautiful lawn to make room indoors for the dancers, while out on the lawn, cozy corners, settees and chairs are plentiful, and games have been provided for those not caring for dancing. By the use of electric lights and Japanese lanterns the lawn will be well lighted. The floors in the Astin home are very highly polished and smooth, they are in a splendid condition for dancing and those who will attend this elegant affair will no doubt be pleasantly entertained for this home is noted for its royal hospitality. A large cut glass bowl filled with delicious punch will be served on the gallery by Misses Dorcas Parker and Madeline Hanway. Splendid music on the piano will be furnished by a good musician. The rooms have been handsomely decorated with white flowers, and running ferns and present a spring like appearance. Before the midnight hour an appetizing course of refreshments will be served.

Col. and Mrs. M. W. Sims, Sr., Mrs.

Charles Mills, Mrs. Fred Smith and Mrs. Field of Shreveport, La., are members of a most enjoyable house party given by Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Wilson at their hospitable home on the plantation in the Brazos bottom. Every day has been filled with all kinds of pleasures, rides, drives and games, and all the good times that could be crowded into a summer week.

An unusual, original and unique party was given last Monday evening at the home of Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Allen when their charming daughter, Miss Sara Allen, entertained the graduating class of the Allen Academy and an equal number of young ladies. The parlors and hall were beautifully decorated throughout. Flowers and foliage were employed to good effect; and with the cordial hospitality and welcome extended by Miss Sara and her parents, the home was most attractive. The young people found after arriving that they really had not finished school as their hostess had planned a course of study for them starting them in the Freshman class, but much relieved were the guests when they discovered that their teacher intended for them to make the four year course in one evening after several hours full of fun and merriment caused by the pupils the school finally came to a close. Prof. Moyes was awarded the medal for being the best orator in the class and Miss Irene Board was given an A. A. pennant for making the highest grade. After the happy school days were over the young people spent a while most pleasantly on the lawn and at a late hour the hostess served her guests with a most tempting salad course and an ice. Altogether it was a most delightful affair and the guests all went away loud in their praise of the amiable hostess.

The regular monthly meeting of the U. D. C. was held on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Luther Taylor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McCorquodale. These meetings are much enjoyed and well attended by the membership and add much to the enthusiasm of the cause. The purpose of this meeting was to celebrate the birth of President Jefferson Davis. The meeting was called to order by the vice president, Mrs. P. M. Rayson. After the business was attended to an interesting musical and literary program was faultlessly rendered, each number needing, especial mention, papers were exceptionally good and the music highly enjoyable. The charming and thoughtful hostess passed beautiful little booklets tied with red and white ribbon, having for the outside cover a handsome post card of Jefferson Davis's home. The guests were requested to write five lines of advice, each line to begin with the letters D. A. V. I. S. Mrs. A. J. Buchanan was given the prize, a pretty gauze fan, which was suggestive of the warm weather. Some oleanders plucked from the flower garden of Jefferson Davis' home and sent to the hostess by her mother, were among the decorations that were much admired by the guests. Delicious fruit punch was served in the hall by Misses Stella Johnson and Madeline Hanway. The hostess was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Miss Piley. The pleasures of the afternoon were brought to a close by the serving of cream and cakes. Mrs. Taylor is one of the most earnest and capable members of the chapter and this charming entertainment was a most gratifying success.

PUBLIC SCHOOL CLOSED.

The city public schools have closed for the session. Another grade having been added by the board of trustees, making it necessary to complete eleven grades, there was no graduating class this session. This being the case, there were no public exercises except a program by the pupils of the first grade held in the chapel of the East side school. The program was highly entertaining and quite a number of the patrons and friends of the school were in attendance. The session just closed has been a most profitable one and the showing made by the pupils in the various grades of both the East and West side schools, has been entirely satisfactory to Supt. Lawson, Principals Kinnard and Bethany and the corps of teachers.

The promotion lists were not published this session on account of a change in the method by the school authorities. Instead of publishing the promotions through the press, each student is furnished with his report card, showing his exact standing in the various studies and properly endorsed by the teacher as to whether or not he passed. Bryan has a splendid public school system, and the officers, faculty and trustees are entitled to great praise for the splendid and successful manner in which the schools are conducted.

LADIES, WHY NOT PRESERVE YOUR YOUTH AND BEAUTY?

Nothing so detracts from the attractiveness of women as dull, faded, lustreless hair.

There is no excuse for this condition nowadays, because notice is hereby given to the readers of the Eagle that Parisian Sage, the quick acting hair restorer, is now on sale in Bryan at the drug store of E. J. Jenkins and is sold with a rigid guarantee at 50 cents a bottle.

Since its introduction into America, Parisian Sage has had an immense sale, and here are the reasons:

It is safe and harmless.

It cures dandruff in two weeks, by killing the dandruff germ.

It stops falling hair.

It promptly stops itching of the scalp.

It makes the hair soft, glossy and luxuriant.

It gives life and beauty to the hair.

It is not sticky or greasy.

It is the daintiest perfumed hair tonic made.

It is the best, the most pleasant and invigorating hair dressing made.

For sale by leading druggists everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

Fight shy of the druggist who offers you a substitute, he is unworthy of your confidence.

This is what Mrs. Elizabeth E. Anderson, Mechanicsburg, Pa., writes:

"I had given up hope of ever being cured of dandruff, when I purchased a bottle of Parisian Sage. It has entirely removed the dandruff, and has started a growth of new hair, and all this after having been troubled for 15 years. I cheerfully recommend Parisian Sage."
